March 19, April 24, May 13

Parents, teachers, school administrators, and educational consultants have an opportunity to visit our school. During the evening presentation, we discuss our school's program and the profile of Armstrong students and provide a brief overview of dyslexia.

Master Teachers will discuss Armstrong's academic and co-curricular programs in depth as well as programs and activities designed to teach basic life skills and self-advocacy skills, all of which increase a student's self-esteem.

The evening program is designed for adults and provides visitors with information about Armstrong School as well as a better understanding of how we meet the diverse learning needs of the students of CAS.

You may contact the Admission Office to arrange a self-guided classroom observation.
